Description

YWAM Discovery Bay Camp and Mission Center is a fifteen-acre property nestled on a bluff at the northern tip of Puget Sound, overlooking Discovery Bay—the first inlet discovered by English explorer George Vancouver in 1791. Begun as a holiness Bible camp in the 1930's, the property has a gorgeous view of the Olympic Mountains, a private and pristine beach access, numerous buildings, three soccer fields, a wooded area—and is only six miles from the quaint Victorian seaport of Port Townsend. We are close to fishing and hiking, Discovery Bay Golf Course is around the corner, we're fifteen minutes from scenic Hood Canal, and a short ferry ride from Seattle via Kingston.
